President's Message

by Laura Pfeffer, President

UMW Sisters,

This year's new spiritual study for Mission u asks us to consider how we are "Created for Happiness". The language of happiness is not as prevalent as it once was. It tends to be reduced to an aphorism "Happiness is ...". Happiness is (with apologies to Charles Schultz) much more than a warm puppy. God does, of course, care about our feelings and "works for the good of those who love him" (Rom. 8:28) and yet our idea of happiness tends to be so much smaller than God's. For God is working to redeem all peoples and nations and bring all things into greater wholeness.

When we seek the happiness God intends, it is not just an individual act, but instead part of a greater whole. John Wesley understood this idea. He framed our quest for happiness in terms of holiness. Wesley's practical ideas for living into the happiness of God echo the life of Jesus and challenge us to not only understand and appreciate happiness, but also to use it as a tool for transformation of ourselves and the world.

Our new geographic study this year is on all of Latin America. An enormous area encompassing South America, Central America, Mexico and the Caribbean the diversity of peoples, language and cultures may seem intimidating. Yet, this study pulls out the important commonalities of history, faith and experience and highlights individual stories to provide contemporary witness to the breadth and depth of background, circumstance and views of the peoples of Latin America.

The history of the Christian church and the role of women are important touchstones for focusing our awareness. Vital and life-changing mission has been and continues to be done throughout this region. Come and celebrate both the opportunity to work with and to learn from our sisters and brothers to the South.

Mission u is one of our best kept secrets. Many in our congregations do not realize what an extraordinary set of resources these studies truly are. We need those who have attended in the past to be our ambassadors and encouragers. Please consider inviting someone to experience Mission u this year. Perhaps your unit can make an effort to sponsor se new or help with carpooling. If you already have copies of the study books, pass them around to others who are spiritual seekers. Let's spread the word!

Yours in Christ,
Laura Pfeffer

LEGACY Women

Julia Mayeshiba

As winter winds to an end, we on the LEGACY Women team are looking forward to coming out of hibernation and being in greater fellowship with all of you. If you have young women at your church that you would like to introduce to United Methodist Women but aren't sure how, bring her to a district or conference event! Going to these events is a great way to introduce newcomers to what UMW is all about without the pressure of going to monthly meetings. We'll be at the following events so be sure to say, "Hi!" If you have questions for us on how to get something going with your young women at your church bring them too! While we don't have all the answers, we would love to help explore how your unit can reach out to the younger population at your church.

Another great introduction to United Methodist Women and its mission is Mission u. Many on the LEGACY Women team got their start by going to the four-day program. Mission u is the perfect place to show that United Methodist Women is not an organization for fuddy duddies. It is an organization for women on fire for mission.

We are currently searching for young women's representatives in the Capital and Coulee districts. If you know anyone that would like to join our team from those districts, let us know!

Events Conference Young Women's Representatives and Mentor will attend this spring:

March 21st: Coulee Spring Retreat in Sinsinawa

April 11th: Mission Action Day in Kaukauna

April 19th: St. Paul's United Methodist Women's unit meeting in Green Bay. There will be an 11:30am potluck followed by a program about LEGACY Women given by Julia! For more information, contact Carol Holt-Lahey at 920-632-7713 or carollahey421@gmail.com

May 2nd: Capital District Spiritual Growth Retreat at Orfordville-New Horizon UMC

May 2nd: Nicolet/Winnebago Districts Retreat at Fond du Lac

May 16th: Metro North/South Spring Retreat at Central UMC

Homelessness

The focus of the 2015 and 2016 Mission Action Days will be homelessness. Included below is information on homelessness from the National Alliance to End Homelessness and from the State of Homelessness Report Wisconsin 2012.

According to the National Alliance to End Homelessness website more than 620,042 people experience homelessness on any given night in the US.

- Chronic homelessness is the term given to individuals that experience long-term or repeated times of homelessness. The chronic homeless are often the public face of the homelessness issue; however, they make up only 18% of the entire homeless population according to the National Alliance to End Homelessness.
- About 57,000 or 9% of all homeless persons are veterans.
- About 26% of homeless adults suffered from some form of mental illness.

Causes

- According to estimates from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, a family with a full-time worker making minimum wage could not afford fair-market rent for a two-bedroom apartment anywhere in the US.
- The lack of affordable housing is one of the biggest factors behind homelessness.
- Veterans are a specific demographic when it comes to homelessness; veterans often experience homelessness because of disabilities caused by their experience on the battlefield. Physical injuries, post-traumatic stress and mental suffering are just a few of the wartime after effects that drive the population of homeless veterans.

Wisconsin

Key findings in the report, State of Homelessness in Wisconsin 2012, An Annual Report Prepared by the Division of Housing, Department of Administration are:

1. The Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-housing Program successfully housed thousands of families and individuals.
2. The new Rapid Re-housing Program has begun to offer permanent housing to families and individuals throughout the state.
3. Some rural Continua of Care (CoCs) serve many more homeless clients than might be expected based on their size.
4. In 2012, most indicators of homelessness remained stagnant or rose slightly from the previous year.
5. There is a statewide increase in homelessness among certain subpopulations (e.g., veterans and chronic clients), which is at odds with national decreases.
6. The largest increase of any subpopulation is in the number of clients reporting a history of domestic violence. This report may be found at <http://www.couleecap.org/Downloads/Poverty%20info/State%20of%20Homelessness%202012-Final.pdf>

In Wisconsin there has been an increase in homelessness every year since 2008. Nationally there has been a 5.7% decline since 2007. (US Department of Housing and Urban Development) In 2012 there were 23,236 homeless individuals, up from 22,516 in 2011.

Homelessness by race in Wisconsin: 51% are white, 41% African American and 8% other. African Americans comprise only 6.5% of the population. .

Single Adults comprise 55% of the homeless population.

In 2012 children represented 27% of the homeless population utilizing shelters and transitional housing programs in Wisconsin.

Rapid Re-housing involves helping individuals or families to avoid the shelter system or minimize their time in shelter by securing an apartment as soon as possible, and helping the clients to remain stably housed there for as long as possible. Research on Rapid Re-Housing conducted by both scholars and policy analysts indicates that Rapid Re-housing can have both immediate and long-term benefits for families experiencing homelessness by providing needed stability and minimizing the crisis of homelessness.

Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH) was initially designed for chronically homeless clients who require ongoing supportive services to remain in their new homes. However, in practice the programs serve clients from a variety of subpopulations, including single persons, persons in families, those fleeing domestic violence, and veterans. Some of these clients may also be chronically homeless, but not all are.

Communities across the state differ significantly in the number of homeless clients they serve. These differences are largely determined by population size (i.e., large cities serve more clients than small townships), by the number of local residents experiencing homelessness, and by the extent of local homeless services. Communities that offer few or no homeless support services will look as if they have very small numbers of homeless persons locally, even if in reality many people are simply making do without shelters by living on the streets or in cars.

I am looking forward to seeing you at the April 11, 2015 Mission Action Day at Kaukauna Peace United Methodist Church.

Blessings in Christ

HAPPY SPRING!

Well, it really is not on the calendar, but it sure feels like that in Wisconsin this week. By the time this goes to print it will be spring in Wisconsin.

Is there a better feeling to us people in the north than when we think of that work "SPRING?" Good things like flowers popping through, birds returning, and snow piles melting.....

And you, United Methodist Women, have been doing good things in your local units and beyond. It is so much fun to read the district newsletters and see the opportunities for mission and how women are in mission throughout Wisconsin. Our conference is a creative, supportive community of amazing women.

Wisconsin Conference is in the midst of the campaign for IMAGINE NO MALARIA. This is the incredible effort of the United Methodist Church to raise $75,000,000 by the end of 2015. Wisconsin has pledged to raise $1,000,000 of those dollars by June. This has nothing to do with United Methodist Women. If you plan to donate to this project, I would ask that you do this through your local church. Your church will thank you and will get credit for this offering.

For more than 140 years our focus has been and always will be Mission Giving. Your pledge, Special Mission Recognition, Gifts to Mission, Gift in Memory, and World Thank Offering are the 5 channels to make this happen. Think of all the women in the past to have used these opportunities for the good of our organization. I thank God for them and for all of you who continue this legacy.

The Pathway to Membership Growth

In the fall of 2013, the National Office selected local units from all five jurisdictions of The United Methodist Church to test their new resource, "Welcome: United Methodist Women Welcoming Event Toolkit." Crossroads United Methodist Women in Washington, Illinois was chosen from North Central Jurisdiction. After their church was struck by a tornado, Wisconsin Rapids, my church, was chosen as a backup. I was so excited! Then, after a short clean-up time, they were ready to participate.

Each of the units selected gave their presentation at Assembly 2014. Sally Vonner, Assistant General Secretary for Membership and Leadership Development for United Methodist Women, invited me to observe their events. Every unit did a fantastic job!

To learn more about this project, refer to Sally's article in November, 2014 response magazine.

On Thursday, March 5th, I had on-line training with Marva Usher-Kerr and Julia Tulloch from the UMW National Office. There will be two more sessions - March 17th and March 25th.

With faith, hope and love, we have been responding to God's call since 1869. It is the reason we exist.

We are connected to each other and to God through our relationship with Jesus Christ. We share a common mission to live as disciples of Jesus and to see the world through compassionate eyes as Jesus teaches us. We are the feet with which Christ goes about doing good, and the hands through which he blesses people around the world. We are stronger when we work together.

I have received the 2014 Membership Census Forms from two districts. I need the rest no later than April 30th.

Historian

Velma Hockenberry

I just want to check with you to see how things are progressing. It is a big task but once you are caught up, it will be much easier to stay on top of the historical information.

I know some of you are current and some had more to sort through than others. I am still available to help in any way or just answer questions. If you need me to visit again, I am willing to do that. Hopefully everyone will be ready for the new structure next year.

Thanks for all the work you all have done to keep our mission alive. Peace and love,

It's almost time for you to plan this year's vacation getaway at Mission u. If you've always wondered what goes on at school, maybe this year is the time for you to try it. We discuss fascinating, up-to-date subjects; worship and sing - a lot; take time to get together for fellowship; support a mission project; and eat good food that we haven't had to cook. If you're looking for training so that you might bring these topics back to your church, this is your chance to learn and participate. Then share all you've learned with your friends in church or with your wider community.

Children's Services chosen to be Mission u's 2015 Mission Project

Located in the Washington Park area of Milwaukee, the United Methodist Children's Services (UMCS) serves women, children and families with affordable housing, childcare, food, household items, and neighborhood organizing.

The affordable housing (both apartments and duplex units), on-site social services, and childcare are facets of a comprehensive program designed to enable low-income, single parent families to become economically self-sufficient.

The Growing Tree Children's Center continues to increase in enrollment, and the emergency food pantry is the largest in Milwaukee County.

Suggested donations (other than cash): $10 Gift Cards from Walgreens, Target or Pick'n Save; laundry baskets, high efficiency (HE) laundry detergent for front loading washers (for example: HE Tide), kitchen size garbage bags, dishwashing detergent, toilet paper, painting supplies (such as cut-in brushes, roller covers, painting tape).
